

GRAPHIC DESIGN, MINOR

Open to students of any major, this minor provides a structured foundation in graphic and web design, integrating theoretical knowledge with practical, studio-based experience using contemporary tools and technologies. The curriculum introduces principles of visual communication, including hierarchy, composition, typography, and digital media, while emphasizing the analysis and development of effective visual solutions across print and interactive contexts. The minor prepares students to apply design principles in a range of disciplinary and professional settings.
